

What Kind of Father Will I Be?

Babies pay attention to what their dads do - not say.

My kids look to me to find out how relationships work.

Some Questions to Ponder

- 1) Do I want to be the same or different from my own dad?
- 2) Was my dad involved with me when I was a kid?
- 3) Did my dad provide me with warmth and respect?
- 4) What about my friends' dads - are they good role models for how I want to approach this fatherhood thing?
- 5) How do I want my kids to feel about me as they grow up?
